

Large amounts of freight are arriving daily for the merchants of Tucson.

The captain of the base ball nine says they will be on the diamond shortly.

A beautiful park will that military plaza make.

Rain indications are good as the paper goes to press this evening.

Some more buildings like the new post office are now promised to Tucson.

J. P. Loneragan has received a large consignment of freight at the depot today.

Mrs. Herbert Brown and children returned from California this morning.

James Tallmadge, out on his ranch to-day, was escorted to the city by the heat. Dr. Feeder is now attending him.

Father Dilly returned from Florence this morning to which point he had started on a visit last week.

The marriage of Mr. Alfredo Moreno and Miss Isabel Delasi was celebrated at the Catholic church yesterday in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Ignacio Gonzales were married last night at the residence of Fred G. Hughes by the philanthropic band.

Sullivan and Corbett are to face each other in the first days of September and New Orleans is making preparations for the fight.

The order of the Knights of Pythias of Tucson, has completed a handsome fence around their cemetery and a pretty design gate.

Mother Immaculate Superiors of St. Mary's Hospital and Sister Rose musical director of the Academy, accompanied by one of the Sisters, returned from California this morning.

The biennial session of the Knights of Pythias takes place in Kansas City the 23rd to 25th of this month. The Supreme Lodge meets on this occasion. It is claimed that it will be a grand affair.

Meers, Palmer & Lawton have a beautiful painting of a landscape scene in Arizona. It is from the brush of the artists of that firm on Congress street, and does them great credit.

There is report of several marriages soon to take place in Tucson, among them is one of the city's brightest young men who has captured the heart and hand of the ideal daughter of one of the oldest families of the city.

The new postoffice building is reaching its completion and will make an imposing structure. It is said that real estate adjoining has been negotiated for and the chances are that a substantial business block will be the outcome of these negotiations.

The sentiment and talk all around town is that as these fine buildings are going up a water pressure must be secured to resist the ravages of fire. A well equipped city water system will prove of no avail unless they are secured by suitable water pressure.

The progress Arizona is making is exemplified by the signs over our stores everywhere. All fruits sold were mostly California, New Mexico, Salt River Valley, Fruit Store, Mesa, Citrus Fruit Store, Santa Cruz Valley Fruit Store. Verily, Arizona is marching on with bands of music in behalf of a great transformation.

Marshall Howe wears upon the lapel of his coat a badge given to him by the wife of A. G. Buttner, who was formerly marshal of the city. The badge is a beautiful solid gold one and surrounded by the American eagle, bearing the following inscription: "Presented to A. G. Buttner by the citizens of Tucson, Feb. 25th, 1881."

Mr. Chas. T. Connell has arrived in the city from Globe where he had been to bring his family to Tucson. His niece, Miss Maude Kenyon, accompanied him also from Globe. On his way to Tucson he stopped at the Mammoth mine and went through the workings of the same. He speaks in most glowing terms of that truly great gold property and bears out all the kind things that have been said about it in the past.

Constable Speedy captured Big Foot George in Nogales and brought him to Tucson on a charge of horse stealing. George sold the horse to some one on the road and went to Nogales and then crossed into Sonora, but the money he had purchased lost of mescal and the mescal proved too heavy and he caught the land where the stars and stripes came more and ever watchful Constable Speedy gobbled him and handed him over to the courts.

A workman, a stranger in the city, employed along the line of track of the railroad was bandying words and casting opprobrious epithets at one of the workmen on the 2nd floor of the new post office building. Calling upon him to come down from his high position and he would demolish a Sullivan or a La Corbett. The city marshal not pleased with the atmosphere being clouded with wicked epithets instead of rain clouds, took the stranger into the city hall.

The athletic association have met with the highest success amongst the business men and property owners in the city. The committee have been receiving kindly and twenty business men have subscribed. Eighteen men subscribing for 25 shares each at one dollar a share and the other two taking a one dollar share and the committee themselves very much pleased with the cordial encouragement meted out to them, and claim that they will make the association first-class in every particular.

Mr. Sammy Hughes, the well-known predictor of rain and Tucson's weather prophet, struck the right key yesterday morning some ten hours before the rain came, when he told one young gentleman around the house, "There is no necessity to leave your coat out for to night, as you will need shelter." So the advice, not taken, was richly rewarded. It proved true. Uncle Sammy's words have become historical and there is no use for the government to have a weather-bureau here whilst the pioneer of the county lives.

J. L. Clark, the well known mining man and now nicely fixed American rancher in the hills and valleys around American Flag on the other side of the Catalinas, was in the city yesterday evening and started for home this morning with a wagon well loaded with luxuries and substantial of life drawn by two span of fine horses. Mr. Clark is a good miner, a good citizen, a successful rancher and a true blue Republican.

Mr. John Gardiner of this city received the sad intelligence Friday evening through a telegram from Marvian, New York state, announcing the death of his youngest son, a boy of about half year old, and that his little boy five years old was dangerously ill. Mr. Gardiner left on this morning's train for Marvian. He takes with him the sympathy of his many friends in this city and the Cruzes sincerely hopes that his little son will be spared to greet his father on his arrival at his destination.

Dr. Martin's drug store, situated on Congress street, between Congress street and Stone avenue, has been lately overhauled and fixed up in first-class shape. The doctor carries a complete stock of drugs with all the latest goods usually carried in a first-class drug department. An elegant fountain from which dispensed different flavored soda water and also the famous rich water of one of the popular attractions of this store and is well patronized. Mr. Theodore Martellier, an Al druggist and prescriptionist, serves his customers in a most thorough and pleasant manner, and is withal a first-class artist in his line.

Miss Cohn of New York city, who has been stopping with Mrs. Goldtree is now on a visit to Nogales.

Chas. Starr has opened a real estate office on Congress street near Wetmore's Assay office.

The Canyon del Oro Smelter is to start up again and some 30 miners are to be placed to work.

Preparations are being made for an operatic season in Tucson, also minstrelsy that will eclipse anything that has yet been to visit Tucson.

The Mexican circus was out yesterday evening upon its usual street parade with band of string music. The rain, however, prevented the exhibit.

Mr. Julius Goldbaum is selling a new brand of beer from New Orleans. He is fixing up for a large trade and calls attention to his advertisement in to-day's Citizen.

The Russ House on Camp street between Church street and Stone avenue, is a popular and well conducted establishment with neat clean rooms. Mrs. Jeffords has charge.

Mr. Speedy of Nogales, is in the city. He is attending to the business of the city and is expected to return to his home in California about 11 o'clock.

The Standard Oil Company has erected a very large tank at the west end of the S in Xavier hotel, some distance from the hotel, and placed the same upon an elevated position, the pillars supporting it from the main one to which it is constructed it seems to be a permanent fixture.

Ranier Ris, who has been superintendent and boss of the irrigating ditch on the southern side of the city without the city limits, says the water for this morning up to 7 o'clock was about San Xavier and Tucson, and that the water in its westward course about 11 o'clock.

The Mammoth stage was compelled to return this morning to the city owing to the high stage of water in the Rio; they were unable to obtain a crossing. This goes to prove that there has been an immense amount of water fallen in the mountain ranges.

Yesterday evening, during the first part of the storm, a very bright flash of lightning followed by a loud peal of thunder, may have been witnessed by those who were observing the storm. The bolt went down the chimney of Mr. Hughes residence on Congress street, partially stunned the family and knocked the stove and fixtures around but caused no fatality.

How Times Have Changed.

"Do you see that man in a buggy there, riding down Congress street?" said a well-known citizen to the reporter today, as he was on his way to the post office. "Well, that man, I remember the time in Tucson when he would take twenty-dollar gold pieces and scatter them around in the theaters like bird seed, and you see that man in a buggy there, riding down Congress street?"

"Yes," said the poster and chronicler of past events, "such is the case." He then continued, "I remember the time when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"

"Yes," said the poster, "those are the same trees that were there when Tucson was Tucson, you could see that place jammed full of men, miners, cattlemen, ranchers and transients, and the jingle of money and the rattling of beer bottles and the clink of Kentucky's choice, and the great gold and silver pieces stacked on the far table were prominent features in those days. You see those great cottonwood trees down there?"